GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. Pursuant to Article 34 of the Arbitration Rules of the Center for Arbitration and Mediation of the Chamber of Commerce Brazil-Canada ("CAM-CCBC"), this Schedule of Costs is hereby established, effective as from January 1st, 2025.
2. The Schedule of Costs provides for the amounts and the rules for payment of costs arising from the commencement, conduction, and conclusion of arbitration proceedings.
3. The main costs are the Registration Fees, the Administration Fees and the Arbitrators' Fees ("Main Costs"). Incidental costs, which may be required depending on the case, mainly include but are not limited to the Expense Fund, Special Committee fees, expert fees, and additional fees for the analysis of requests for clarifications to the partial or final arbitral award ("Incidental Costs").
4. The payment model chosen by the CAM-CCBC is the advance payment of costs. Thus, the Registration Fee shall be paid before the submission of the Request for Arbitration, the Administration Fee and the Arbitrators' Fees shall be advanced before the signature of the terms of reference, the Special Committee Fees before its constitution, the Expert Fees before its commencement, and the additional fees for the analysis of requests for clarifications to the partial or final arbitral award before the rendering of the decision on the clarifications. Likewise, the CAM-CCBC requests the advance payment of an amount to be allocated to the Expense Fund.
5. As regards the amounts, the Administration Fee and the Arbitrators' Fees are variable and calculated based on the amount in dispute. Other fees are charged in fixed amounts (e.g., Registration Fee) or as established (e.g., Expert Fees) or as necessary for the proper conduction of the proceedings (e.g., Expense Fund).
6. By choosing the CAM-CCBC to administer the arbitration, the parties, arbitrators and other participants to the proceedings agree to the amounts and rules set forth herein. They further acknowledge that the costs, the administration fees and the arbitrators' fees, in particular, shall be advanced to CAM-CCBC by the Claimant as from the filing of the Request for Arbitration and by the Respondent as from the date of its notification.
7. As this is a private dispute resolution mechanism, the payment of costs is essential for the arbitrators and the institution to be compensated. Therefore, non-payment of costs, at any stage of the proceedings, justifies its suspension by the CAM-CCBC or by the Arbitral Tribunal. Ultimately, the non-payment of costs may also result in the termination of the arbitration proceedings.

8. Notwithstanding item 4 of this Schedule of Costs and article 35 of the Rules, the service provided by the CAM-CCBC and the arbitrators is of a continuing nature and, therefore, their monetary compensation becomes due with the rendering of services throughout the stages of the arbitral proceedings (chapter V.E. of the Rules), and it is certain that the administration fees are considered property of the CCBC and the arbitral tribunal fees are the property of the arbitrators. The obligation to pay the costs within the time limits and in the manner defined in this Schedule of Costs also extends to the Parties in Judicial Reorganization, in view of the ongoing nature of the services provided and the provisions of article 6, paragraph 9 of Law 11.101/2005.
9. Considering the continuous nature of the services provided by the CAM-CCBC, the arbitrators, and the calculation based on the amount in dispute, the CAM-CCBC and the arbitrators may at any time demand payment of the costs in court or outside of it, including by way of collection lawsuit. For the purposes of such collection of costs, the administration fee, the arbitrators' fees, and other arbitration expenses are jointly and severally payable by the parties.
10. Also, unless otherwise agreed by the parties, in arbitrations featuring multiple Claimants or Respondents, the amounts due will be prorated among the Claimant(s), who together shall advance 50% of the costs, or Respondent(s), who together shall advance 50% of the costs.
11. The parties authorize the CAM-CCBC to carry out any set-off of amounts, in cases of default or early termination, regardless of which party has made the advance payment and even if the amounts have been provisioned under a different line item.
12. In the event of multiple parties, any reference to "Claimant" or "Respondent" in this Schedule of Costs shall apply to the requesting or responding party, respectively. Similarly, "Claimant" or "Respondent" may also be referred to as "party" or jointly as "parties."
13. The CAM-CCBC shall decide on cases not otherwise stipulated.

I.A. Amount in dispute

14. The amount in dispute is the basis for calculation of the Administration Fee and Arbitrators' Fees and it corresponds to the sum of the parties' claims.
15. The amounts of the claims will not be added up in cases of mere allegation of inadmissibility of the other party's claim.

Reassessment of the amount in dispute

16. The reassessment of the amount in dispute herein addressed is intended for payment of the arbitral costs and therefore, for administrative purposes, and may be performed at any time during arbitral proceedings.
17. The amount in dispute used as a basis for calculating the administration fees and arbitrators' fees may be reassessed by CAM-CCBC, with or without the recommendation of the Arbitral Tribunal, and will take into consideration documents and allegations submitted by the parties or preliminary decisions of the Arbitral Tribunal.

18. In the event of an increase in the amount in dispute, the parties shall, within the period indicated by the CAM-CCBC Secretariat, cover the amounts due. If the amount decreases, the Financial Department will make the proper refunds.

32. Time limit for advance payment: within 30 (thirty) days. For the Claimant, the period of time shall commence from the submission of the Request for Arbitration, and for the Respondent, from the end of the time limit for submission of the Answer to the Request for Arbitration.

II.D. Segregation of costs

33. The payment of the Main Fees follows, as a rule, the guidelines set out in the previous items (II.A, II.B and II.C).

34. However, there is an alternative for payment of the Main Fees called segregation, which may be chosen when there is disparity between the amounts of the parties' claims.
35. Segregation is a method of paying fees independently for each party involved in the proceedings: each party is responsible for paying 100% of the administration fee and 100% of the arbitrators' fees, based on the value of their own claims.
36. The general rule provides that the parties will each pay 50% of the administration fee and 50% of the arbitrators' fees based on the amount in dispute (i.e., the sum of all claims). However, under the segregation method, the amount due will be calculated based on the value of each party's claims, but each party will be responsible for paying 100% of the administration fee and 100% of the corresponding arbitrators' fees.
37. Thus, any party is entitled to choosing the segregation method to pay their fees based on the value of their claims. However, if segregation is not financially advantageous to the party requesting it, the segregation of the amounts in dispute will not be applied.
38. Once the requirement set out in item 37 is met, the enforcement of payment of fees under the segregation method does not depend on the assessment by the CAM-CCBC and on the agreement, in casu, of the other parties.

II. INCIDENTAL FEES

III.A. Expense Fund

39. The Expense Fund is established for expenses incurred in the administrative conduction of proceedings with the physical forwarding of documents and the hiring of support providers such as court reporting services and translators.
40. The Secretariat may request the constitution of the Expense Fund considering the planned arrangements.
41. Party responsible for advance: Claimant and Respondent.
42. Time limit for advance payment: as per invoices forwarded by the Financial Department.

III.B. Additional fees for clarifications to the arbitral award

43. The clarifications to the award provided for in Article 31 of the Rules shall only be issued after the advance payment of additional fees for the analysis thereof. The additional fees shall be paid in advance by the party requesting the clarification. If the clarifications are fully awarded, the advance fees will be returned to the party.
44. Additional fees: as shown in the table below.

In case of rejection of the requested clarifications, the President of the Arbitral Tribunal will receive 40% of the fees and the other arbitrators will receive the remaining amount equally divided, that is, 30% each; the Sole Arbitrator will receive 100% of the additional fees deposited. Exceptionally, the CAM-CCBC, by request of the Arbitral Tribunal may justifiably set an increase in fees.

The President of the Special Committee shall receive 40% of the fees, and the other members of the Committee shall receive the remaining amount equally divided, i.e., 30% each. Exceptionally, the CAM-CCBC, by request of the Special Committee constituted, may justifiably set an increase in fees.
49. Party responsible for advance: Unless otherwise expressly and specifically stipulated, the fees shall be borne by the Party that raised the challenge, under penalty of termination of the challenge pursuant to Article 34.5 of the Rules.

74. All expenses are calculated in Brazilian Reais (BRL), currency of the Federative Republic of Brazil.
75. Should the parties estimate the amount of the dispute in foreign currency, the Financial Department will convert it to Brazilian Reais (BRL), considering the exchange rate on the date the Request for Arbitration is filed. If necessary, the Financial Department will request the necessary additions or make eventual refunds, considering the amount received in Brazilian Reais (BRL).
76. In all cases, the parties will bear the taxes and bank charges.
77. The Registration Fee should be deposited in the account below:
- Banco Bradesco S.A. (237)
Branch 3114-3
Câmara de Comércio Brasil-Canadá
CNPJ 43.737.840/0001-44

79. The corporate name and the CNPJ (Brazilian Registry of Legal Entities)¹ used for invoicing will be those submitted by the parties.

¹ The "Cadastro Nacional da Pessoa Jurídica", which is Portuguese for National Registry of Legal Entities or most commonly known as CNPJ.

85. The parties may request changes to the indicated billing method, taking into account that: (i) the request must be submitted within 3 (three) business days from the filing of the request for arbitration (Claimant/Requesting Party), or from its response (Respondent/Responding Party); and (ii) if the request to alter the billing method is granted by the Secretariat of CAM-CCBC, the chosen billing method will be applied in all future billings of the procedure.

V.B. Incentives to Mediation

86. As an incentive to resolve conflicts related to the performance or execution of a given contract, in accordance with CAM-CCBC Mediation Rules, the parties will be granted a discount on the amount due as Mediation Administration Fee as defined below.

109. In the event of early termination, whether by agreement, withdrawal from arbitration proceedings or default, the arbitrators' fees and the administration fee shall be charged according to the parameters set forth herein.
110. It should be noted that even if the proceedings are terminated early, the CAM-CCBC and the arbitrators may demand payment of the costs in court or outside of it, including by way of collection lawsuit. 118. These monetary correction provisions will only apply to arbitrations initiated on or after January 1, 2025.

Subsequently the counterparty or counterparties will receive such invitation.
123. If there is interest, the invoices for the payment of the overdue amounts will be sent to the party that was willing to pay the defaulter's expenses.
124. The collection will be made considering the estimated amount of the claims declared by the party in good standing, disregarding the value eventually estimated by the party in default to its claims, unless otherwise determined by the Arbitral Tribunal.
